It is my responsibility to make sure my pet is up to date on all required vaccinations before entering Bouse Fur House (BFH). I authorize BFH to contact my veterinarian in order to confirm health, temperament and vaccinations. I give consent to BFH to act on my behalf by obtaining veterinary care at my expense, should BFH deem it necessary.

I understand that my pet may be at risk at getting Kennel Cough even if they have current vaccinations and by placing my dog in a boarding facility they are subject to this kind of infection. Exposure to open play areas including daycare, boarding, grooming, and/or bathing may result in injuries including but not limited to: cuts, bites, scratches, abrasions, puncture wounds, injuries to paw pads, contraction of contagious diseases and/or parasites, tracheobronchitis, stress, loss of appetite, behavioral issues, diarrhea, sprains, fractures, broken bones, insect bites, allergic reactions, weight loss, eye injuries, hot spots, bloat, and death. I understand that my pet cannot return to BFH before 30 days prior to being treated in a veterinarian clinic and /or having any illnesses.

I agree that photographs, recordings, or any other images, may be used of my pet by BFH for any purpose without compensation, including but not limited to advertising, marketing, or promotional activities. I have read the schedule of fees and agree to pay all charges at checkout, unless previously arranged. I authorize BFH to charge my credit card account, if so provided, for any outstanding invoices. If my pet has not been picked up or if I have not paid charges for any services within 10 days, BFH has the right to put the pet up for adoption after given notice by phone and mail. I release BFH (and its employees) from any liability or claim due to sickness, injury or death of my dog. I understand that under no circumstances will BFH be liable for consequential damages or damages beyond the replacement value of my dog.

If I cancel for any reason, BFH must receive notice 24 hours (before noon) prior to the day of the reservation in order for my deposit to be refunded. A $15.00 fee will be charged for cancellations not given within the 24 hours (for each pet).

I hereby agree to the above terms.

Bordetella & My Dog

Use your favorite internet search engine and type in the word "Bordetella", "Canine Cough" or "Kennel Cough" and the result will be thousands of articles written or underwritten by some of the most renowned veterinarians and veterinary colleges in the world. The sad fact related to what quite possibly is one of the most prevalent infectious diseases in dogs is that for everything we do know about it, there is yet much we don't know about it.

What is Bordetella:

Canine Infectious Tracheobronchitis (Canine Cough) is known to be caused by a number of different airborne bacteria such as Bordetella Bronchiseptica and viruses such as Canine Parainfluenza or a Mycoplasma which is an organism somewhere between a virus and bacteria. Typically, more than one of these disease-causing agents must barrage the dog at the same time for the onset of the illness to occur.

How Can my Dog Get Bordetella?

Your dog can contract Bordetella by breathing in the airborne bacteria if they are sharing the same general area with a dog carrying the disease. Additionally, Bordetella can be contracted by your dog sharing a food bowl or toy with a dog that is carrying the disease. Symptoms can appear between 2 and 14 days after your pet has been exposed to the bacteria. The typical length of infection can be anywhere from 4 to 21 days.

What Can I do to Reduce the Risk of Bordetella?

You can reduce the risk of your dog contracting Bordetella by ensuring that the dog's Bordetella Vaccination is up-to-date. While many veterinarians recommend that your pet receive the vaccination on an annual basis, there is almost 100% agreement among veterinarians that dogs that frequent a boarding, grooming or daycare environment should be vaccinated on 6-month intervals to reduce the risk of contracting the disease. Bouse Fur House recommends if your dog visits us for daycare two or more days a week, vaccinate your pet every 6 months.

Will the Bordetella Vaccine Protect My Dog?

While ensuring that your dog's Bordetella Vaccine is updated on 6-month intervals will certainly reduce the risk of the pet contracting the disease, studies have shown that the vaccine is only 70% to 85% effective at preventing your dog from contracting Bordetella. Additionally, while the intranasal version of the vaccine has been shown to be the most effective version of vaccinating for the disease, immunity can require up to 72 hours from the time the vaccine was administered and does not protect from every cause of Bordetella. The resulting immunity is often short-lived (4 to 6 months in duration) so re-vaccination on similar intervals is recommended.

What Should I do if my Dog shows signs of Bordetella?

If your dog shows the signs of Bordetella, you should contact your veterinarian immediately. While the Bordetella disease in an otherwise healthy dog is not itself life threatening, other pre-existing health issues with the pet can cause serious health complications in a pet that contracts Bordetella.

- 1) I acknowledge that Bouse Fur House has informed me about the risk of Kennel Cough in a boarding environment and I have been informed that is highly recommended that my dog receives a Bordetella Vaccine booster every 6 months.
 - 2) I acknowledge that I have received written information about Bordetella – "Bordetella & My Dog".

Keep your Pets on a Flea/Tick and Heartworm Prevention

Fleas: Dogs and cats can share fleas. If you see adult fleas, you likely have an infestation brewing. A female flea can lay 40-50 eggs a day, and those eggs can lay dormant for months before hatching. Fleas can cause anemia & spread tapeworm.

Ticks: Besides the fact that ticks feed on blood, they can also transmit a number of different diseases. The symptoms of most tick-borne diseases include fever and lethargy, though some can also cause weakness, lameness, joint swelling and/or anemia. Many of these tick-borne diseases are contagious to people as well as our pets. Examples include Lyme disease, ehrlichiosis, anaplasmosis, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, babesiosis and more.

Heartworms: Heartworms can only be passed on by mosquitoes. It's a specific parasite that only affects dogs and cats and ferrets and other mammals. It takes about seven months, once a dog is bitten by an infected mosquito, for the larvae to mature into adult heartworms. They then lodge in the heart, lungs, and surrounding blood vessels and begin reproducing. Adult worms can grow up to 12 inches in length, can live 5-7 years, and a dog can have as many as 250 worms in its system.
